COSTLY MIXTURE

Mixing alcohol with gasoline proved a costly experiment to California motorists last year, according to figures released by the department of motor vehicles.

Persons attempting to operate a vehicle while under influence of intoxicating liquor in 1935 paid $201-966.20 in fines, 1448 were sent to jail or road camps, and 3988 offenders lost their drivers' licenses. In 1934 drunk drivers paid $140,000.25 in fines for their offenses, 778 were sent to jail or road camps, and 2088 licenses were suspended.

About 75 percent of persons convicted under vehicle code provisions of driving while intoxicated are unable to regain an operators' permit, according to Russell Bevans,
chief of division of drivers' licenses.
The reason for this situation is that persons so convicted must prove financial responsibility before a license can be reinstated by department of motor vehicles, and insurance companies are not inclined to accept such risks. When insurance is accepted, the rate invariably is prohibitive to the average vehicle operator.

Operation of a motor vehicle by a person under influence of intoxicating liquor is a misdemeanor and for the first offense the courts can sentence the offender to not less than 30 days nor more than six months in the county jail or fine not less than $50 nor more than $500, or can sentence both jail sentence and fine. Second or subsequent offense carries a maximum sentence of one year or fine of $1000 or both this and imprisonment.

If an intoxicated driver is judged responsible for bodily injury to any person he is guilty of a felony and can be imprisoned for not less than one year nor more than five years in a state prison, or he can be sentenced to not less than 90 days nor more than one year in a county jail, or fine not less than $200 nor more than $500 or both fined and jailed.

Mrs. Slattery
City Pioneer
Is Summoned

Richmond today mourned the death of one of its best known and beloved pioneers—Mrs. Mary Ann Slattery, who passed away at her home, 434 Bissell avenue last evening. Her death followed a lingering illness.

Mrs. Slattery was 79 years of age and for the past 33 years had made her home in Richmond.

PIONEER RESIDENT

Deceased and her husband were among the very first residents of this city. With her husband, R. E.
Slattery, she came to Richmond in the early part of this century,
when it was only a village—a collection of scattered houses on the West Side, cut off from what now is Richmond proper by mud flats
and swamp lands.

Mr. Slattery purchased property on what is now Bissell avenue, and what was then open fields of weeds.
There were no houses in the area and the Slattery home was the first to be built there.

SAW CITY GROW

Since those early pioneer days,
Mrs. Slattery saw the city of Richmond grow in population, in importance, and in prestige.

During her years in this city she identified herself with civic affairs.
She was an active member of the

Virtually every store in the city will remain closed during the one-

ISU LEADER IS FREED IN PLOT PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—
UP—Murder conspiracy charges against Ivan Hunter, secretary-treasurer of the International Seamen's Union, and William J. O'Neill, a seaman, were dismissed today by Municipal Judge Daniel S. O'Brien.

Attorneys for Hunter, John L.
McNabb and Walter McGovern, argued with Public Defender Gerald Kenney, representing O'Neill that no proof had been advanced that Hunter sought to hire O'Neill to kill Earl King, secretary of the Pacific Coast Marine Firemen's Union or Harry Lundberg, secretary of the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

STATEMENTS RETRACTED

O'Neill retracted previous statements attributed to him, declaring after his arrest that Hunter never had asked him or anyone else to his knowledge to "murder" or "kill" either King or Lundberg.
Earlier he asserted that Hunter had paid him part of a $500 "per head fee" for death of the pair.

FRAMUP CHARGED

Hunter branded the arrest and charges part of a "frame-up" engineered by "bad cops" and "bad
judges" and "a new seamen's union set up on this coast."

Grand jury investigation of the charges and the alleged frame-up remained a distinct possibility. Assistant District Attorney John Tyrell indicated that such an inquiry would be made.

COVER WIDE TERRITORY

The investigation would cover a wide and troubled background of coast maritime affairs. Only today Harry Bridges, fiery leader of the

Guard Field Artillery To Locate Here

Battery E, 13th Field Artillery, will be located in Richmond, according to an announcement made yesterday by Frank Ribbel, local high school coach and second lieutenant of the battery.

The battery will open up recruiting offices at 330 Tenth street today. Offices will be open from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. and an effort will be made to bring up the strength of the organization to at least 53
men. It is believed that the new battery will be mustered in next Thursday night.

Non-commissioned officers will be selected from the list of recruits. Those having previous military training will be given preference and will have a good chance to become non-coms.

The battery will be equipped with four 75 millimeter field guns, formerly used by the Santa Barbara battery. The latter outfit is now being equipped with the new 155 millimeter guns.

Members of the local Guard battery will receive regular army pay for every drill attended and will go to San Louis Obispo to attend Guard training for two weeks starting July 11. Full army pay will be received during the two weeks.

Plans for erection of a new armory to house the battery's equipment will be taken up by Col. Otto Sandman of Stockton, regimental commander.

Captain R. D. Ferris, of Oakland, will command the local unit. He has just returned from a training course at Fort Sill, the Army artillery school.

Lieutenant Ribbel will be executive officer of the battery and Lieutenant George Watkins will be second in command. A fourth officer will be named.

Crash Hurts Fatal To Man

An inquest is pending in Alameda County into the death of Warren F. Goss, 34, of 3036 Bona-street, Oakland, who died at an Albany hospital yesterday from injuries sustained when he was struck down by a car at Cypress and San Pablo avenues in El Cerrito recently.

Goss was allegedly hit by a car driven by Nick O. Turner, 48, of Stockton.

Turner was questioned by police
after the accident and was later released. He told officers he was unable to avoid the crash.

GEORGE ELLIS, well known West Side resident is recovering at a local hospital from a severe illness.

DEM. SLATE IS HIT BY OARP BODY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—
UP—The State area board of the Townsend OARP, representing Northern California, today repudiated the Democratic convention delegate slates set up by Representative John Mc-Groarty after labeling it a "fake delegation promoted for political reasons only."

The board repudiated the Mc-Groarty slate and resolution which called upon all Northern California Democrats to "ignore it, if having no official recognition no value to the cause."

"HAND PICKED"

"It has come to our attention,"
the resolution read, "that the delegates of this so-called 'Townsend' slate have been hand-picked by political promoters from outside the Townsend movement in some cases the delegates are not even Democrats, and in others are no active Townsends."

"These facts tend to create the charge that this McGroarty delegation is a fake, promoted for personal political reasons only, and not for the best interests of the

Camp Plans For Boy Scouts Are Studied At Meet

Camping activities of the Western Division of Boy Scouts were discussed last evening at a meeting of the camp committee held at the home of Lewis Hall, 657 Fifth street.

The Council's camp bulletin for 1936 camps is ready for distribution. Don Garrard, representing the Knights of Dunsmuir, accepted the task of making personal contacts with all troops of the division to discuss the summer camp and distribute bulletins explaining its purposes.

A member of the committee will appear before the next meeting of the Scouts' Roundtable and explain the program, opportunities, costs and other features of the camp.

Definite plans were made for the western division district camporee
to be held at Nicholl Park Saturday, April 25 and Sunday, April 26.
At this camporee, patrols will be judged on the same basis as at the council camporee to be held at Crockett on May 23 and 24.

The object of the district camp-oree is to give patrols of the western division an opportunity to prepare for the Crockett event. All patrols of all troops may enter the district affair. Patrols will be judged on uniform, insignia, packs, cooking equipment, camp equipment, beds, ground protection, overhead protection, troop or Scout equipment, patrol organization, setting up camp, menu, preparation of food, maintaining camp, fuel and fire, closing camp and participation in special activities.

Leaders of program events to be the camporee were named by George Miller, chairman of the committee. They are: Chris Gatter, contest and activities; Harold Garrard, campfire program; Lewis Hall and B. C. McBride, physical arrangements; Charles Parker, judging.

Members of the committee present were George Miller, Lewis Hall,
Charles Parker, Harold Garrard,
B. C. McBride, Roddey, Ralph Beck,
El Cerrito; Chris Gatter and Scout Executive D. P. Schmitt.

MISS JESSIE MCKENZIE, 571 Ninth street, an employee of the business office of the Telephone Company, is recovering from an emergency appendicitis operation performed at a local hospital yesterday.

PUNISHMENT OF NAZIS TO BE DEMANDED BY FRENCH

BIG AIRSHIP IS SAFE; TO LAND TODAY

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Friday,
April 10.—UP—The Hindenburg, world's largest dirigible,
tonight was making good progress on the last lap of her return flight from Rio de Janeiro.

Officials at the dirigible's home anar had not advised that the raft is in trouble. They said the ship was making 70 knots despite a strong headwind and should each here on schedule this afternoon.

PARIS, April 9.—UP—Limping at the greatly reduced speed of 50 knots, with one of her four engines
stalled, the giant German dirigible Hindenburg, carrying 33 passengers and 41 crew, fought headwinds
tonight on the last lap of the return flight of her maiden voyage to this country.

At the personal request of Premier Albert Sarraut, the air ministry granted Captain Ernst Lehmann, commanding the dirigible,
permission to land on French soil
or fly over France.

Bond Company Wants Accounting By Ann's Mother

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 9.—
UP—Mrs. Marion Hewitt McCarter was ordered today to post $50,000 bond to guarantee she would not leave New Jersey.

She is critically ill at the Medical Center.

Chancellor Charles M. E. Egan issued the order upon the request of the United States Fidelity Guaranty Company of Newark which had bonded Mrs. McCarter for $189,000 when she was appointed guardian of her daughter, Ann Cooper Hewitt, in 1923. The company claimed it would have to pay the bond if Mrs. McCarter left before making an accounting of her handling of the estate.

Counties Will Handle Relief Under New Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—UP—
When the state relief commission
meets in Los Angeles April 18, Governor Frank P. Merriam will ask the commissioners to prepare plans for turning relief work now done by the SRA over to individual counties of the state, Charles I. Schottland, state relief administrator, said today.

Schottland has just returned from a two-day conference with Governor Merriam in Sacramento.
Meanwhile, the state still must find means of financing relief work from May 20 to July 1. So far the federal government has refused to make a $3,000,000 additional appropriation considered necessary to continue California relief work through the current fiscal year.

ly foreigners in Rome. At left is Premier Julius Goemboos of emy in the Italian capital city.

Boondoggling By WPA Will Be Continued

WASHINGTON, April 9.—UP—WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has given the house appropriations sub-committee a clear indication that some of the additional $1,500,000 sought for relief will be spent on so-called "boondoggling" projects, it was reported tonight.

Likewise, it was learned, Hopkins has given the committee no assurance that this would be the last large relief grant the administration would seek. The $1,500,000
figure was reached, he said, by estimating the cost of continuing WPA for another 12 months at $125-900,000 a month.

Italian Airmen Rain Bombs On Ethiopian Cities

ROME, Friday, April 10.—UP—Twenty-two Italian bombers intensively bombarded numerous Ethiopian positions on the southern front
late yesterday according to press
dispatches from Mogadiscio.

Officials believed the reported bombardment presages a mass offensive by General Ruffalo Grazia-nise "motorized cavalry" against Harar, second largest city of Ethiopia.

Despite heavy rains, the Fascist bombers reportedly inflicted heavy damage on Ethiopian positions at Bullale, Sasabaneh, Dagabur, Dagah Mado, Gagara, Birut and other centers southeast of Harar.
The Ethiopians fought the attack with lively anti-aircraft fire, the reports said, but no Italian planes were damaged seriously.

FLANDIN TO ASK LEAGUE TAKE ACTION

GENEVA, April 9.—UP—France tonight prepared to demand "concrete action" by the League of Nations to force
Germany to evacuate the reoccupied Rhineland zone.

Simultaneously France's proposals for European peace, concocted
as a "cure all" for Europe's political, military, economic, colonial and racial ills, was submitted formally to the League of Nations
when a copy was handed to Secretary General Joseph A. C. Avenol.

FRENCH WARNING

The French warning against forfeiture of the Rhineland was delivered verbally to British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden by French
Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin.

He said that Chancellor Adolf Hitler's rejection of initial League proposals made "consideration of next steps in the European crisis necessary, especially if Germany should fortify the Rhine."

Jury Is Chosen In Antioch Ark Murder Trial

MARTINEZ, April 9.—UP—Witnesses will be called Monday in the trial of three men accused of beating Allen Knight, 36-year-old Antioch pioneer, to death in his San Joaquin river cabin last February 14.

The men are Lewis Sly, 33, Falls Sutton, 39, and Le Roy Bussey, who assertedly attacked Knight during a drinking spree. It is charged they went to his home to obtain a revolver and assaulted him when he refused to turn it over to them.

Superior Judge A. P. Bray denied a motion of Bussey's counsel that charges against him be dismissed.
Bussey asserted he was a witness,
but not a participant to the attack.

A jury of six men and six women
was selected to try the three men earlier today.

THE JURY CONSISTS OF

Harold E. Dimock, Richmond;

OAKLAND OAKS, SEATTLE WIN COAST GAMES

By UNITED PRESS
Seattle stretched the longest winning streak of the current season to eight in a row Thursday by beating Sacramento in a 13-inning struggle, 5 to 1.

The victory kept the Indians just a half a game behind the league leading Oakland Oaks, who trimmed Portland 4 to 3 yesterday by virtue of a last half ninth inning rally.

Oakland clung to first place with a scant win from Max Bishop's ever-threatening Beavers. In the first inning Leroy Anton tripled to score Gordon who had singled, and Lodigiani's single brought home Anton. The Beavers got two runs in the sixth on a series of singles, an error by Lodigiani and Claybaugh's double, then added one in the eighth.

The Oaks refused to be downed. In the last half of the ninth, Boyd crashed out a triple that scored Lodigiani and Hitchcock just after Leroy Anton had been thrown out at home.

Frank Lemanski twirled five-hit ball for the Mission Reds to give them a 5-0 victory over Los Angeles.

At San Diego the Seals took a 7 to 6 verdict over San Diego in ten innings, scoring twice in their half of the final canto to once for the Padres to win the game.

Dog Track To Be Dark Tonight

Probably the most sensational greyhound of the Great East Bay Elimination series, now going on at El Cerrito track, is Alder Gulch of the Yellowstone Kennel winner last night in a blanket finish with Buddy Mac and Gallard. Alder Gulch came from nowhere to make it two wins in three elimination starts, and returned $1240. The quinte was $76.49, and the double with Lady Lark $123.60.

Bathurst was eliminated. While the track is closed tonight because of Good Friday, fans are looking forward anxiously to tomorrow's excellent bill when match race elevators Andrews Pride into top company, and Max Baer, former world's champ, referees boxing and wrestling.

U. C. Net Stars Will Meet Troy In Test Match

BERKELEY, April 9. - UP - The University of California tennis team, holding down second place in Pacific Coast collegiate standings, will meet University of Southern California in return matches here Friday afternoon.

TROJAN-BEAR TEAMS CLASH ON SATURDAY

BERKELEY, April 9. - The eyes of the collegiate track and field world will be focussed on Edwards track stadium next Saturday afternoon.

El Trojan of U. S. C., undisputed master of the intercollegiate circuit, sent in 1935, meets the Golden Bears, of California - "the team that came close."

And the battle promises to rival the epic struggle of last year to the Los Angeles Coliseum, in which the Bears scored 60 1-6 points to the Trojans' 70 5-6, with eight meet records swept aside in the scramble for "come through" points.

Wily Coach Dean Cromwell has managed, with every other track coach in the nation labelling the Trojans as "unbeatable," to keep his charges pretty well under wraps to date. But most observers figure the Bears are just about good enough to force a tipping of the Trojan hand.

The meet holds the feature spot on the Bears' home schedule and California athletic officials today were making preparations for the largest crowd of the season. All seats on the west side of Edwards Stadium, some 11,000 of them, will be reserved, while California students are expected to claim most of the east side bleachers. The tickets will be available all week at California agencies in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley.

Thus for the champions of Troy have had no dual competition which would extend them. They have met and soundly defeated Occidental, engaged in an interclass meet, competed with a skeleton team in the Long Beach Relays and staged a couple of squad trials. A few performers, notably Captain Fox Draper, sprinter, and Earle Meadows, a couple of squad trials. A few performers, notably Captain Fox Draper, sprinter, and Earle Meadows, a couple of squad trials. A few performers, notably Captain Fox Draper, sprinter, and Earle Meadows, a couple of squad trials.

A meet scheduled with Fresno State last Saturday was cancelled due to rain, so the Trojan forces "scouted" the California-U. C. L. A. meet in Los Angeles, in which wind and a sloppy track handicapped all contestants.

Some indication of the calibre of the Trojans.

Chuck Carr, number one Trojan in the absence of Gene Mako, Davis Cup player, will meet Dick Bennett, intercollegiate doubles champion in the feature singles match.

Hank And Joe

BIG HANK GREENBERG, right, for a time a Detroit Tiger holdout, gives his younger brother Joe a few pointers at the Tiger training camp in Lakeland, Fla. Although Joe worked with the champs he is not yet on the team.

the coming meet is seen in the fact that he'll teams will depend heavily upon men who scored in last year's thriller. Still on the Trojan side of the ledger are 43 1-3 of the 70 5-6, points scored last year, while the Bear veterans of this year were responsible for 31 5-6 of the points scored by the Blue and Gold, not including 15 points registered by Captain Bob Fowler, two-miler, and George Anderson, sprinter, neither one of whom is expected to compete Saturday.

IMPEACHMENT OF JUDGE IS NEARING CLOSE

WASHINGTON, April 9.—UP—House managers trying Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter of Miami, Fla., on impeachment charges before the Senate, rested their case late today.

Ritter is accused of "high crimes and misdemeanors". The principal charge is that he allegedly accepted $4500 from a former law partner whose fee he fixed in a Miami receivership case.

The defense will begin presentation of its case tomorrow.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Representative Sam Hobbs, Democrat, Alabama, one of three representatives appointed by the House to "prosecute" Ritter in the nation's 12th impeachment trial, rested the government's case after introducing copies of Ritter's 1929 and 1930 income tax returns.

It was in those years, according to the articles voted by the House, that Ritter accepted payments from A. L. Rankin, his former law partner whom he had granted a $75,000 receivership fee.

Earlier, the managers had passed from consideration of the first two impeachment articles, involving the Rankin payments, to Article 3 charging Ritter with accepting a fee, after he became judge, in the case of the Trust Company of Georgia against the Brazilian Court Building Corporation.

Many Openings Still Remain In CCC Enrollment

Tuesday marked the half-way point in the periodical CCC enrollment, April 1 to 15.

There are still available about 800 openings in this corps. Young men representing a family or individual on public relief should take advantage of this opportunity which offers so much to the youth and his family.

A full educational program is now in force and approximately 90 percent of the present enrollees are attending one or more classes.

By going to CCC now, learning a trade, meanwhile being self-supporting and also aiding one's family, it is not necessary to remain an untrained, unskilled man, with jobs few and far between. Youth may return now, upon completion of a CCC enrollment, capable of holding down a better job. Hundreds of trained CCC men are given jobs today that they could not possibly have held down before obtaining their CCC training. The age limit is 17 to 28 years inclusive.

NORRIS POWER BILL IS NEAR REALIZATION

WASHINGTON, April 9.—UP—Senator George W. Norris' dream of electricity on every American farm to lighten the drudgery of tasks now done by hand, moved a step nearer realization today when the House approved its rural electrification bill, already passed by the Senate.

Because of a $100,000 cut in the $120,000,000 program and certain minor differences, the bill must go to conference with the Senate.

Norris originally asked for a $1,000,000,000 10-year program but consented to an arrangement by which the RFC could loan $50,000,000 a year for the next two years, after which $10,000,000 would be appropriated annually for the next eight years. The House changed this figure to provide RFC participation for one year only, with $100,000 appropriations annually for nine years.

The bill would empower the rural electrification administrator to make two types of loans: one of generating plants and transmission systems, and the other for farm wiring and the purchase of appliances.

The power plant loans would be made to localities now without central station service and would be for 25 years at a 4 percent loan to individual farmers would be under terms to be determined by the administrator.

Passage of the bill cleaned up important pending business of the House and it adjourned over the Easter holidays, to meet again Monday noon.

Meanwhile the Senate took less than 10 minutes to authorize the RFC to loan $100,000 for reconstruction of property damaged by floods, and to the measure back to the House for concurrence in minor amendments. The loans would make possible repair of sewage, irrigation, and electric systems damaged by floods.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disorders, food fermentation, or the wearing of dentures, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, throat, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days, so how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Listerine Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

"The Great Impersonation," romantic mystery by Edw. Phillips Oppenheim and starring Edmund Lowe, makes up the other half of the program.

In observance of Good Friday services the Fox theater will hold no matinee today; however the first show will start in the evening at 5:45 P. M.

"The Music Goes Round" is said to be the most exciting romance filled with music, songs, hit tunes, dances and beautiful girls, that has come to the screen in many a moon.

Harry Richman, Rochelle Hudson, Farley and Riley, Walter Connolly, Lionel Stander, Michael Bartlett, and Douglas Dumbrille are starred.

Edmund Lowe plays a dual role in "The Great Impersonation" an exciting story of international intrigue and love. Opposite him is Valerie Hobson and Vera Engels, the lovely women in his life who finally pierce through the secret of "The Great Impersonation" and bring it to a grand conclusion.

G Men To Make Vice Probe In Santa Cruz City

SANTA CRUZ, April 9.—UP—Culminating more than a week of undercover investigation, Edwin E. Grant, former State senator and ex-G-man, today announced the beginning of an active campaign against vice resorts assertedly operating openly within a few blocks of the county courthouse.

Grant, who has been pledged the support of a newly formed "law and order league," composed of clergymen and prominent citizens, said he will invite the cooperation of District Attorney Ben B. Knight in his drive.

The new "crusade" is based on written charges made before the city council two months ago by Amos Beauregard, former deputy sheriff, in which he specified eight gambling places and houses of ill repute which he said were running with full police knowledge and approval.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Last year, for the first time in many years, the President of the United States refused to address the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce. This year the Chamber decided to retaliate by inviting no New Deal speaker.

Now, however, this has been reversed. The new deal will be represented after all.

It was all fixed at a luncheon between Harper Sibley, President of the Chamber, and a mutual friend of Sibley and Secretary of Commerce Dan Roper. The friend, told Sibley of Roper's disappointment at not being asked to speak.

"It's rather a bitter pill for him," the friend said. "On one hand he is being attacked for being too friendly to business, and on the other, business gives him the cold shoulder."

Sibley expressed sympathy with Roper but pointed out that he, Sibley, was in a tough spot.

"I'm in the middle between two camps," he explained.

"One group, the ultra-hard shell Tories, are opposed to any overtures to the Administration. The other, made up chiefly of small business men, are on the whole for friendly relations. But it is the first group that control the chamber."

"Yes," replied the friend, "but they don't want to overlook one thing. If Roosevelt is re-elected their thumbing their noses at him like a gang of peevish schoolboys is going to do them no good in the next four years. He'll crack down on business with a real vengeance."

ROPER DILEMMA
Sibley was strongly impressed by this argument, promised to see what he could do about securing an invitation for Roper.

A few days later the Secretary of Commerce set a formal bid. But his first enthusiasm turned somewhat when he learned what he had been asked to discuss.

The Chamber moguls, apparently faked when the President, in his relief message to Congress, rebuked industry for not creating more employment, assigned Roper the subject: "How industry can put more men to work."

NOTE—Some of Roper's assistants advise him to turn the tables on the Chamber with an outspoken demand that business men either reemploy the idle or quit complaining about federal relief expenditures. But other advisers urge a conciliatory talk.

Cabinet colleagues refer to Roper's predicament as "Daniel in the lion's den."

PRESIDENTIAL COCKROACHES
The White House, mecca of every house-keeping woman in the land, has cockroaches. Despite its $9,000 modern kitchen, despite a retinue of servants, a cockroach hunt takes place after every President leaves office.

And whether Republican or Democratic, he always leaves cockroaches behind.

P. E. Harris is the official cockroach cleaner. After Harding moved out, his harvest filled one tall ash-can.

"The cockroaches," he reminisces, shaking his head, "were something terrible, especially in the kitchen and pantry. It took 100 pounds of

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, April 9.—Adolf Hitler's moustache is red, not black—Roy Howard, just returned from Europe, interviewed the Fuehrer and was surprised to find how the famous lip decoration blended with Hitler's pink, peaches and cream complexion.

Robert Simmons, whose non-speaking horror role in "Libel" is that of a one-armed, mindless German ex-soldier, before this assignment was a watchman in one of New York's large newspaper buildings—Portrait of an indignant social register. At a performance of Katherine Cornell's "Saint Joan" the other night, a swallow-tailed young swell muttering angrily as he groped for his seat in the darkening hall: "If that intermission was eight minutes, I'll eat my shirt! Why, the woman thinks she's running the town!"

Which reminds me that it's the balcony seats that are usually filled by certain time. Orchestra customers generally delay until the champagne settles—"Three Men On A Horse," galloping along after its 500th performance, has already earned more than $2,000,000. Before it opened, author John Cecil Holm was about to have the mortgage on his Connecticut home foreclosed, and producer Alex Yokel was eking out a bare living as publicity man for the Stephen Taverners—Fairy tales do happen.

BAUBLES—Eugenia Clay Smith, the Arbuckle coffee million-heiress, is well on her way to rivaling the gay, glamorous exploits of Diamond Jim Brady and other lavish spendthrifts.

At an informal party in the Savoy Plaza lounge the other evening, she arrived in a daring green ensemble augmented by $600,000 worth of emeralds. Estelle Taylor remarked upon a huge diamond that graced her finger.

"Oh, this one is only forty-three carats," yawned Mrs. Smith. "I don't believe in wearing my large jewels in public."

The auburn-haired beauty's latest pastime is race-horsing. With Bing Crosby she's bought a track at Delmar, near Hollywood, and is dicker with an Indian Maharajah for a set of thoroughbreds. Crosby already has a worthy crew of racers. Mrs. Smith has bought men during an alleged imprisonment of approximately two weeks. She said there was another man, whom she could not identify, in the car. Miss Dale Scott followed Mrs. Adams on the witness stand. She testified the Ferrari brothers had asked her to enter a house of ill fame.

"I should like to prevent a recurrence of this, and would appreciate any booklets or information on the subject."

Kidnap, Beating Details Told To Court By Woman
SAN JOSE, April 8.—UP—Testifying in the prosecution of Harry and James Ferrari, accused of kidnaping and criminal assault, Mrs. Rose Adams, alleged victim of the brothers, broke into tears today as she related in Judge Grandin II Miller's court, details concerning her asserted mistreatment.

Mrs. Adams, night club hostess, said James Ferrari forced her into an automobile in which she asserted was taken to a house near Merced and assaulted by several men during an alleged imprisonment of approximately two weeks. She said there was another man, whom she could not identify, in the car. Miss Dale Scott followed Mrs. Adams on the witness stand. She testified the Ferrari brothers had asked her to enter a house of ill fame.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, April 9.—UP—Between scene waiting consumes considerable time during filming of every motion picture, and stars have fallen into individual relaxation habits.

Sharp-jawed Katherine Hepburn, whose moment to moment habits are unpredictable as her home state's recent floods, never rests, however.

She is talking continually about any subject not associated with motion pictures. Refusing to retire to her portable dressing room, Miss Hepburn flits about the set gossiping with players and technicians about anything from books to polo.

Blonde Ann Harding, another temperamental star, is quiet between scenes. She seeks a secluded nook in the shadows of the set and sits quietly, concerned only with her knitting. When she does while away the time with conversation, she talks only to her stand-in, Philis Yates.

Ginger Rogers, the nimble footed dance partner of Fred Astaire, reads between turns before the camera. Astaire seeks a clear space in the litter of sound and practices his dance routines.

Probably the most individual member of the film colony is Helen Broderick. Her system is not unique but the equipment required is.

Most motion picture stars are satisfied with an old leather couch or a canvas-backed chair (with names stenciled on the back). Miss Broderick, however, demands a special chair.

When her request first was heard property men shook their heads in dismay.

All Miss Broderick desired, to their vast relief, was a good, old-fashioned rocker, that did not squeak when it went into action.

Now she rocks contentedly while waiting for the call to action and crochets an Afghan rug.

Once a co-worker asked her why she rocked as she worked. "Can you remember your grandmother?" she replied. "Did you ever see her crocheting without rocking? It can't be done."

High Prices Are Paid For Beef At Livestock Show

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—UP—Record high prices for livestock auction sales were recorded today at the ninth annual interstate junior livestock and baby beef show.

Auctioneer A. W. Thompson of Lincoln, Nebraska, sold the grand champion baby beef, owned by Clair Winterton of Woodland, Utah, weighing 1000 pounds, for $100 a pound; the champion hog, weighing 200 pounds and owned by Dick Barrett of San Luis Obispo, drew $150 a pound, and the champion lamb, weighing 65 pounds and owned by Arthur McLean of Kern county, brought an all-time high of $10 a pound.

THE appalling floods that swept over eastern states during the month of March caused the American Red Cross to take under its care more than 100,000 families in thirteen States. Pennsylvania was hardest hit, and in the cities of Pittsburgh and Johnstown the Red Cross either fed, sheltered or clothed 117,000 persons. The suffering was intense, because added to deluges of flood water, came rain, snow and intense cold.

Many cities and towns were cut off for 48 hours or more from communication with the outside world, both in Pennsylvania and in Connecticut. The Red Cross used airplanes to rush medical supplies to afflicted towns, and to drop food supplies from the skies over other places.

Within a few days the Red Cross had more than 250 relief workers and 200 Red Cross nurses in all of the communities in the thirteen States which had suffered from flood waters.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Chairman, notified President Roosevelt, who is President of the Red Cross, that a relief fund of at least $3,000,000 would be needed. President Roosevelt addressed a proclamation to the nation asking for liberal contributions. When double the number of families came under care of the

Santa Fe Bus Hearing Is Laid Over For Week

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—UP—The State Railroad Commission today set over until April 16 for further hearing of the Santa Fe company's application for permission to operate intrastate service.

Hearing sessions were scheduled for April 16, 17, 23, and 24 in San Francisco.

The Santa Fe is expected to continue its arguments designed to show that it should be allowed to operate a coordinated rail and bus service in California between Los Angeles and San Francisco and in the San Joaquin valley.

Lloyd Neal, Santa Fe traffic manager, and A. L. Conrad, assistant general auditor and statistician for the company, testified today. They were cross-examined briefly by counsel for the Pacific Greyhound lines and Southern Pacific opponents of the application.

Conrad asserted his company had sustained revenue decreases in operation of its lines in California.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

How to Cure Adhesions Cannot Be Answered Easily

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.
NO DOUBT there are thousands in the United States who would like to know how to relieve intestinal adhesions. There are also thousands of surgeons who would be glad to know how to prevent and cure them. Any person who ever had a local or general inflammation of the bowels or who has undergone an extensive abdominal operation has some adhesions. They do not always cause trouble, but they are there to a greater or less extent. Nature is very jealous of the abdominal organs and has taken precautions to protect them from injury and disease. Almost all the contents are covered with a membrane called the peritoneum which has the quality of immediately sealing over any injured surface. Any area left raw or uncovered either by external injury or inflammation seals itself to any other portion with which it may come in contact to prevent leaking of the contents or spread of infection.

That is the reason that you often hear of a gunshot wound penetrating several coils of intestines without serious results. The opening has sealed itself to some other portions for protection. In any abdominal operation uncoiled portions are produced.

The careful surgeon makes every effort to cover all these, to protect them and prevent adhesions. That is not always possible. Many solutions, ointments and artificial coverings have been devised and tried to prevent their recurrence, but adhesions will be formed.

By good luck many do not cause trouble. It is only after a considerable length of time some of them either by constriction or by position cause a kink in the intestinal wall.

This leads to obstruction of the free passage through the intestines or a pull on some important position and serious results are encountered. The presence of adhesions causes many and varied troubles.

Constipation or obstruction to the passage of gas may cause much distention or colic pains. They may interfere with intestinal absorption of food with resulting loss of flesh and all the symptoms of indigestion. By causing a kink in certain portions, a dragging, sickening pain, with backache, headache and general debility, will make life miserable.

Mrs. A. of Ohio writes that many years ago she had an operation for appendicitis. Later a caesarian section was necessary, from all of which she had an uneventful recovery. Five or six years later she began having pains with periods of great distention, pulling and a feeling of weight in the abdomen.

What Is To Be Done?
By careful diet and digestive medication her general condition has been much improved, but the gas pain, sick stomach and pulling remain and her physician considers her condition due to adhesions. What is to be done for the relief of that condition?

Well, we should all appreciate an answer to that problem. One way is to open up the incision and cut away the old adhesions, but we have no proof that they would not return. They might not be in the same position and might not cause the same trouble, but there is no assurance of that. An X-ray might show the location and extent of the obstruction. In this case, it is very probable that the adhesions are at the abdominal wall, following the caesarian operation. If so it would be justifiable to cut away the old scar and repair the old wound.

The operation was done hurriedly, of necessity, and adhesions resulted. In some cases I have seen relief by the use of deep X-ray treatment. This should not be done till after the child-bearing period has passed, as it causes atrophy of the ovaries.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "Can you suggest what kind of a shower to give a bride, a very close friend of mine?"—Ethel V.

ANSWER: A linen or miscellany shower. The former will provide a supply of linens for the bride's home, while the latter may cover such necessities as silk hose, dainty underwear, breakfast jackets, bedroom slippers or, in the household line, pictures, bookends, pots, pans, etc. A host shower would be ideal for a bride who is fortunate enough to have a complete trousseau.

Guide to Charm

Eye Shadow An Allure; Takes Time

By JACQUELINE HUNT

EYE SHADOW, properly applied, enlarges your eyes and gives them an alluring air of mystery. And the newest method of applying it is with a brush.

Take up some of the shadow with a fine camel's hair brush, and draw a line from the inside corner of the eye upward and slightly outward toward the edge of the upper lid. Do the same on the outside corner of the eye. Then draw a fine line along the edge of the upper lid just above the lashes.

These three lines form a triangle and give your eyes depth. Outline the lid as a sculptor would, blending the shadow smoothly and evenly. Do not use too much color and be sure that it is blended a little deeper near the lashes and shading off toward the eyebrow. Your eye make-up should not be discernible at a distance of five feet.

Mascara is flattering to every girl. It darkens the lashes, makes them look larger and darker. Blondes and in-between types with delicate coloring should use a brown mascara—except for evening. When they wish an exotic effect they may try blue or green.

Black is good for those with vivid coloring and dark eyes and hair. Get a good quality of mascara and use it with discretion. There are cream mascaras in tubes that are easy to apply and will not flake off. Always apply mascara by brushing the lashes first down, and then upwards from the roots to the tips. In this way the color is evenly applied and you will encourage the lashes to curl upward.

If your eyebrows are nicely shaped and are lacking only in color you will find mascara a more satisfactory coloring agent than the eyebrow pencil. Brush the eyebrows first to remove any powder or particles of dust. Then dip the beauty brush into your mascara and beginning at the part of the brow near your nose, lightly brush the mascara over the hairs. This gives a natural effect that is hard to get with a pencil.

For evening make-up, follow the same rules, using your favorite shade of shadow, plus the addition of gold or silver, depending on your coloring. Blend this evenly over the shaded area. There is a new mahogany shade of eye shadow that is stunning for evening when blended with gold. This is especially nice for brunettes with rich coloring or for redheads. And there are some lovely turquoise shades that when blended with silver give blondes a positively luminous look.

The light, precise touch necessary for perfect eye make-up takes time, so never try to use your eye cosmetics when you are in a hurry. If shadow or mascara are obvious, then you should remove them and start over from the beginning. But if your eyes are bright and lovely, just add a little friendly interest and you can get your man!

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "What can I do for a yellow skin? There are no serious blemishes, but a sort of yellowish color that makes me look older than I am. I have nice hair, but would like to know how to arrange it."—Mabel.

Do you wash your face with soap and water every night before retiring? Do you always cleanse it in the morning and follow with ice water or chilled skin tonic to tone and close the pores? Do you use a stimulating cream occasionally? If you can answer "yes" to all of these questions, then you should see your doctor.

Perhaps you need a tonic or your diet needs adjusting or you need more outdoor exercise. Your face is thin you should wear your hair parted on whichever side is most becoming to you and keep it rather smooth on the top with soft waves and curls at the sides.

You might find the favorite hair-do of Gladys Swarthout becoming.

QUESTION: "I have lines around my eyes and at the corners of my mouth. I apply cream and massage every night. What else can I do to eliminate these signs of age?"—Mrs. Joyner.

Do you always massage with a light upward and outward stroke rather than a downward pull? Use a rich cream for this massage and use a muscle oil every other night where the lines are deepest. Leave on the skin for half an hour, then wipe off the surplus with tissue. Rub all over the face with tissue. If possible, have a beauty parlor daily with cool, moist compresses over your eyes to relieve any strain and improve the circulation.

Creole Food Deserves To Be More Widely Used

By JUDITH WILSON

CREOLE cookery deserves to be more widely known. If you have ever tasted the delicate hot breads, savory gumbos and pot roasts of the Creole cook, you will know how distinctive and truly delicious they are, and how economical.

A Creole sauce of onions, tomatoes, green peppers and garlic will turn a simple stew into a party dish. Add a little lemon juice and cream, grated onion to taste, salt, pepper, butter, paprika, dash of cayenne and small bits of crisp bacon. Stuff the jackets with this delicious mixture, place a bit of lean bacon over the slit with a lump of butter and a sprinkling of paprika. Put back into the oven until the potato mixture is hot and the bacon crisp.

Pain Perdure (Lost Bread) Left-over bread becomes a treat when it is made into pain perdure as the Creoles call it. It is especially good as a breakfast dish although you can serve it for luncheon or a light supper. Make a batter of 3 eggs, beaten until very stiff, 3 tablespoons powdered sugar and 1 cup milk. Into this mixture, grate the peel of a lemon and put the trimmed slices of bread to soak for about half an hour. Lift out carefully and fry in deep hot fat until golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper, sprinkle with powdered sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg and serve very hot.

Calas The night before you want to make these delicious little Creole cakes, put 1/2 cup washed rice into 3 cups rapidly boiling water and cook until very soft. When cooked mix with 1/2 yeast cake soaked in 1/2 cup lukewarm water. Let rise overnight. In the morning add 3 eggs, well beaten, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, and about 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg. Beat thoroughly. Let rise 15 minutes and drop by large spoonfuls into deep fat. Fry to a golden brown, drain and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

You and Your Child

Teasing Child Has Some Serious Dangers

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

TEASING little Joan affords the child's father considerable amusement. The other evening he was engaged in this pastime. The child had remarked that robins' eggs were blue. "I have always heard they were pink," dad offered, just for the sake of opposition and to see how Joan would take it. "I know they're blue, daddy. I saw one, once. Honest."

Dad pulled one of her curls affectionately. "Go on—you don't know anything. Besides you've a funny face." "No, I haven't." "Yes, you have. Just look at those eyes. Do you call them nice?" "Yes, I do." "Well, I don't. And look at that nose? It's much too small to be useful. You can hardly grab hold of it." "I can, too. Joan proclaimed with considerable annoyance.

And to prove her point, she felt her nose. This, together with the fact that she had succeeded in vexing her by such nonsense, dad found most entertaining.

At dinner the next evening, dad noticed that Joan was scowling at him across the table. "What's the matter?" he asked.

"You made me very angry last night," the little girl narrowed her eyes meaningfully. Dad gave a short laugh. "Oh, that. Do you still remember that, Joan?" He seemed surprised. "I'll never forget it," the little girl answered.

The real significance of that saying, "I'll never forget it," was, of course, lost on dad and the rest of the family. It showed that Joan resented being teased. And this was proof that she does not understand teasing as such. That when dad tells her she has a funny face or knows nothing, she thinks that he means it. In teasing, the joke is at the child's expense. Why not make jokes he can understand and share?

When you shop for fowl, remember that pin feathers indicate a young one, long hairs an older one. The breastbone of an older fowl is hard; the flesh usually is darker, having a purplish tinge.

Styles Offer Variety In Silhouettes

By IRENE VAIL

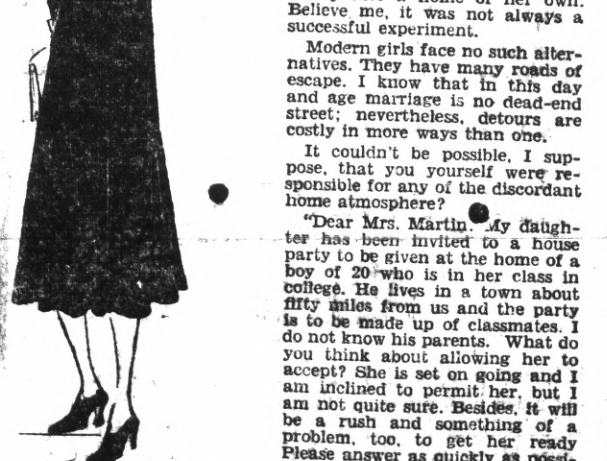

New York—There can be no complaints this season about a lack of variety in silhouette. The "profile" silhouette sounds redundant, but it is a two-feature silhouette that needs a two-barrel name. We refer to peplums that flare at the back, tunics that concentrate fullness at the back, balanced at the bosom in flowers, ruffles, ruffles and revers.

Mainbocher's influence is definitely marked in tunic outlines, and while it is more frequently observed in formal fashions, this type of flaring back fullness is also new-looking in afternoon fashions when the tunic is light and the back flaring fullness is an important feature of the skirt of the frock. This profile silhouette will appeal for its new look, and also because it is smart, serving to make waistlines seem slimmer and younger.

There are many capes and these are sometimes elbow, and sometimes wrist-length. You will like the reversible types for the very obvious reason that they do reverse.

Printed capes, one side at least, are very tricky and quite as nice as the separate printed jacket, which is one of the season's pet dress.

For that matter, so is the printed redingote over the plain frock, being fashion's mood at the moment to go in reverse, so to speak. As far as color is concerned, artists have concentrated upon making the hat with one or more accessories, and these accessories have in most instances been selected for their vibrant qualities. One of the most interesting military style trends which has come strongly since the recent openings is the use of cuttings and ruffles in hats. It was to be expected, for hats and ruffles are so very important in costumes.

Copyright, 1936, by Pathefrat. Wide circular skirts, bodices and at back and also at the shoulders are smart. The waistline collars and cuffs are up details. Note the veil.

Has Plenty of Time

I don't suggest that you settle down to such a life. It's a pretty dreary one, as you can see if you look about you; but I do suggest that you have plenty of time to marry. Don't be silly enough to think this chance is going to be your only one. A girl who marries one man to the point of marriage has it in her to repeat this achievement.

I would take this sympathetic swan further into my confidence. Tell him that you are really afraid your burning desire to get away from home may be coloring your attitude toward him, that you prefer to get away first so that you will be in a more receptive mood to listen to his personal pleas.

Back in Mid-Victorian times there wasn't much else that a girl unhappy at home could do but marry into a home of her own. Believe me, it was not always a successful experiment.

Modern girls face no such alternatives. They have many roads of escape. I know that in this day and age marriage is no dead-end street; nevertheless, detours are costly in more ways than one.

It couldn't be possible, I suppose, that you yourself were responsible for any of the discordant home atmosphere?

"Dear Mrs. Martin, my daughter has been invited to a house party to be given at the home of a boy of 20 who is in her class in college. He lives in a town about fifty miles from us and the party is to be made up of classmates. I do not know his parents. What do you think about allowing her to accept? She is set on going and I am inclined to permit her, but I am not quite sure. Besides, it will be a rush and something of a problem, too, to get her ready. Please answer as quickly as possible."—Constance.

For this we have daughters. All means allow her to go. Even though the boy's parents are not known to you personally. Naturally, the invitation must come from them and the plans for her arrival and departure understood perfectly between the parents.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver dispose its acids. This "force" may do the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills. What every constipated person needs is a good liver. The liver is a gland that secretes bile. Bile is a powerful solvent. It dissolves the fats of the food and carries them to the small intestine. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter taste, sour stomach, gas, bloating, attacks of other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Alka-Seltzer is made from the juice of harmless medicinal plants—Nature's own remedies—just as a mild, easy way without weakening or irritating the organs of the body.

He felt a different man next day. Relieved the Alka-Seltzer way.

Why don't you take Alka-Seltzer for Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, Cold, Fatigue, Muscular, Rheumatic or Sciatic Pains?

Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments, then by restoring the alkaline balance, corrects the cause which has to succeed and your druggist sells Alka-Seltzer.

morrow for their first formal deliberations since those conducted in London last month.

Flandin told Eden that fortification of the Rhine would infringe Article 42 of the Versailles treaty, constituting a new violation of that pact and requiring stern action by the Locarno signatories.

SANCTIONS DEMAND

His statement was interpreted as meaning that should Germany erect forts in the Rhineland, France would demand that the League of Nations, at the request of the Locarno signatories, apply economic sanctions.

Flandin denied that France, as reported abroad, previously indicated she would rush troops into the Saar region, returned to Germany by plebiscite in 1935, if Germany fortified the Rhineland.

the committee today also:

1.—Heard Wolde Mariam, Ethiopia's delegate to Geneva, indicate his government's readiness to discuss peace directly with Italy on condition that League members attend such conversations to guarantee the conduct of negotiations within the framework of the League.

2.—Learned through an Eden announcement that Italy shipped 20 tons of gas through the Suez canal to Ethiopia. He urged that both belligerents be asked to pledge themselves not to use gas in the future.

HAILE WELCOMES DEATH

3.—Heard that Mariam told Eden that Emperor Haile Selassie would die in battle rather than relinquish any of Ethiopia's rights as a member of the League of Nations.

4.—Understood that the French and British delegates have agreed that after tomorrow's session the committee will adjourn until April 21, which would automatically become the deadline for a cessation of hostilities by Italy.

5.—Received a report from its committee of jurists indicating the committee of 12—the Council minus Italy—is powerless to prevent Italian use of gas against the Ethiopians.

REPORTING POLITICS

THERE is no more exacting news assignment than reporting politics. This is true particularly in a presidential year.

United Press, with its customary foresight, last June began its feckless, unbiased, impartial political coverage for the 1936 presidential campaign. Representatives of ten states met in the mid-West grass roots convention at Springfield, Ill. at that time.

Since then expert United Press political writers have been moving across the United States covering the big convention stories; making cross section surveys of various states; interviewing prospective candidates; watching new political movements and reporting day by day maneuvering.

These factors insure dominant political news coverage for UNITED PRESS client newspapers with UNITED PRESS... ACCURACY... SPEED... INDEPENDENCE.

Zeppelin company officials believed the dirigible would continue to her Friedrichshafen hangar, where she is expected at an early hour Friday afternoon.

They hoped engine repairs could be made in mid-air but they were uncertain as to what route the Hindenburg would follow.

The French have instructed the dirigible to follow the old Graf Zeppelin route up the Rhine valley if she flies over French soil. Lehmann last reported his position after passing Gibraltar.

The request for the Hindenburg, to land in France caused fear of an impending dirigible disaster.

Auto Sales For State Showing Large Increase

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—UP—A gain of 39 percent in automobile sales in the three Pacific Coast States during the first two months of 1936, as compared to the corresponding period last year, was announced today by P. E. Allan, domestic sales manager of the Associated Oil company.

Allan said his survey, covering only passenger cars, showed 20,174 unit sales in February alone as compared to 16,179 in February, 1935. There were 40,582 automobiles sold in January and February, 1936, as compared to 29,196 in the same period last year.

California dealers made over two-thirds of the sales, Allan said, disposing of 30,112 units. Washington dealers sold 5,506 cars and Oregon dealers, 4,964.

UNION TACTICS ARE BLAMED IN POWS ON SHIPS

WASHINGTON, April 9.—UP—Captain Walter J. Petersen, member of the National Committee on Safety at Sea and representative of three Pacific shipowners' associations, tonight blamed what he termed "unethical" union tactics for reported insubordination aboard American merchant ships.

Commerce Department officials said, however, that it was impossible to fix the blame for the unprecedented number of interruptions in ship operations, pending a "thorough" investigation. "Some incidents may be the fault of the operators," Joseph B. Weaver, director of the department's Bureau of Navigation and Steamboat Inspection, pointed out.

INQUIRY ASKED

Petersen said he believed the Commerce Department's inquiry would reveal that most of the growing number of crew disputes were fostered by the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, rank and file organization of seamen and littoral workers.

Weaver is preparing an analysis for Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Rogers on the "between 200 and 300" cases of alleged insubordination during the past year reported to him by steamship companies. He said it was unfair to assume that crews were at fault until the reports have been studied and verified.

STUDIES SITUATION

"All we know," Weaver said, "is that we are having stoppage of vessels and delays in sailing. This may be the fault of the masters or the operators or the crews. We won't know anything until we have completed our report. All I can say is that they are probably due to labor difficulties."

In explaining his views, Petersen said he had studied the situation for some time and that he believed NRA was inadvertently the cause of a wave of small strikes by allowing the rank and file of the Maritime Federation to organize and upset placid labor agreements on the West Coast. Since then it has rapidly spread its power under the leadership of Harry Bridges.

Petersen said that Pacific seamen were receiving the highest wages in the world before they reorganized and split with the International Seamen's Union. He charged subversive elements were involved in the federation.

Service Club Will Assist In Horse Show Event

Routine business matters were discussed last evening when the Richmond 20-30 Club held its meeting at Hotel Carquinez. Harry Swearingen presided over the session.

The organization will take an active part in the horse show to be held here this spring by the Contra Costa Horsemen's Association. It was announced.

Plans were made for a dance to be held May 9 at the Berkeley Country Club. George Johnston is chairman of the affair.

A speaker will be present at the meeting to be held on April 23. It was announced.

ISU LEADER IS FREED IN PLOT PROBE

San Francisco council of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, announced a special meeting to determine the organization's policy on unloading the Grace liner Santa Rosa, due here tomorrow.

Bridges said the Santa Rosa is manned by union seamen, who walked through picket lines established by other members of the union.

ANOTHER MEETING

Another meeting will be held to determine council policy regarding the Panama Pacific liner Virginia, due here April 20. Bridges charged the Virginia's crew had been recruited in Buffalo, Detroit and Chicago, with union books issued them showing their dues paid three months in advance.

"West Coast maritime workers are of the opinion the shipowners deliberately are trying to provoke trouble by sending these two ships out here with such crews," Bridges declared.

ANOTHER ISSUE

King, center of the murder conspiracy affair, was embroiled in another issue when he declined to attend a meeting of the joint seamen's labor relations board.

"The board is no longer functioning as far as the marine firemen are concerned," he said. He declared he asked the board to define duties of engine room rankings and that he received a refusal on the grounds that such a definition would change existing arbitration award provisions.

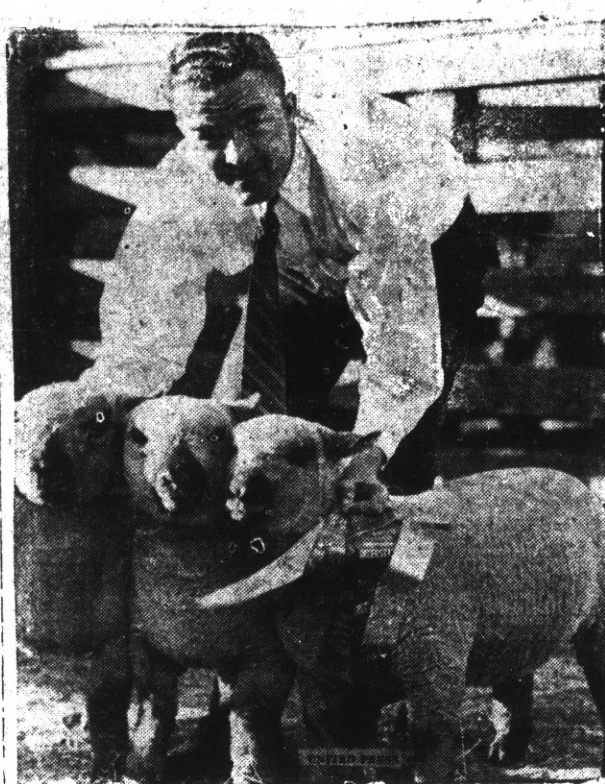

A dispute between engine room employees and the chief engineer meanwhile kept the S. S. Helen Whittier tied up in Honolulu.

Alcatraz Feign Taken By Death

ALCATRAZ ISLAND FEDERAL PRISON, Cal., April 9.—UP—Warden James Johnston today announced that the body of John T. Carroll, 62, prisoner who died Monday of complications following pneumonia, had been shipped to the home of eastern relatives.

Johnston said Carroll died while serving a 15-year sentence on charges of forging money orders and also of escaping from Leavenworth Federal penitentiary. His record showed commitments from Baltimore and Tulsa and he was admitted to Alcatraz in 1934.

restrictions on expenditures of the relief money. Hopkins indicated that $525,000,000 would be spent on roads, $175,000,000 on waterworks and sewer construction and $175,000,000 on state, county, municipal and school buildings.

Hopkins spent his second day before the committee in executive session today as Stephen Raushenbush, former chief investigator of the Senate munitions committee, accused him of being "unwilling or unable" to investigate charges that relief funds have been used for political purposes in Pennsylvania.

CHARGES MADE

Raushenbush is now chairman of the Pennsylvania Security League. He said in a statement that he protested to Hopkins on March 16 and on April 2 that Edward Jones, WPA administrator in Pennsylvania had used Federal funds to circulate attacks on him but received no reply.

Senator Rush D. Holt, Democrat, West Virginia, a consistent critic of WPA activities in his State, also charged a West Virginia WPA official was using government franking privileges to circulate attacks against him.

SENATORS IRED

Informed of the charges, Hopkins merely smiled and said, "no comment."

Republicans, armed with data showing that relief expenditures, unemployment and the number of work relief has grown each year since the New Deal took office, are determined to go thoroughly into the subject of "boondoggling" projects with Hopkins before he leaves the stand.

NO FAVORITE SON

The resolution pointed out that the OARP—old age revolving pension plan—had an announced policy that no "favorite son" would be endorsed by the membership and that "no political alliances would be made and that we are not interested in any selection until the August congressional primaries."

The McGroarty slate was placed on the May 5 Democratic party primary ballot in California, and calls for a Democratic national convention delegation, ostensibly representing "Townsend Democrats."

TOWNSEND ENDORSED

Earlier, the State area board unanimously endorsed Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the organization, and Edward J. Margret, State manager, in a "confidence gesture" growing out of recent congressional investigations into their activities.

The delegates expressed determination that no political candidate should make undue use of his affiliation with the Townsend organization to "further his political ambitions."

To enforce this resolution, they voted as their first rule that any Townsend club officer would be required to resign his office before running for any public post.

Intensive Search Is Started For Stolen Dynamite

REDWOOD CITY, April 9.—UP

—Fearing that it might have found its way into "irresponsible" hands, San Mateo county officers tonight renewed an intensive search for a large quantity of dynamite reported stolen from a PWA project yesterday.

Investigators reported the stolen explosives would "blow up an entire city block."

B. E. Homeberg, foreman on the Tunitas-Glen road project, reported the theft to Urban S. Marshall, county engineer.

Homeberg said the dynamite, which had a 40 percent nitrogen content, was purchased by the WPA in San Jose last Tuesday.
